

Consumer's Guide to

Auto Insurance Insurance

A message from the Louisiana Department of Insurance

Some of us spend up to a quarter of our income each year on insurance. Yet many do not take the same care when buying insurance that we take with buying the cars we are insuring. Many of us tend to judge insurance by the cost of the premium, calling five or six agents and picking the cheapest policy.

We would never dream of calling an automobile dealership, asking for the price of the cheapest car, and then choosing the car sight unseen just because it cost the least. The same should be true for our auto insurance.

No matter how low the premium might be, an inexpensive policy does you absolutely no good if the insurance company cannot cover your claim when your car has been involved in an accident.

Whatever your insurance needs, you should choose a company that is financially sound, has a history of providing good service, and charges a fair rate. This guide will help you find the auto insurance company that is right for you.

Finding auto insurance that meets your needs does not have to be difficult.

What do I do first?

- ▶ Shop around for the policy that is right for you.
- ▶ Do not buy the first policy you hear about.
- ▶ Get quotes from several companies before you sign an application and pay a premium.
- ▶ Be aware of insurance scam artists and unauthorized insurance operations.
- ▶ Buy only from authorized insurance companies and agents. Unauthorized insurance operations are illegal and their policyholders are unprotected if the company goes broke.

If you would like to check on a company, call the Louisiana Department of Insurance. See page 11 for all of the information you need to contact us. We can answer many of your questions including the following:

Am I buying from a legitimate company?

Ask about a company's or agent's license status.

Will the company be around to pay my claims? Ask for the company's financial letter grade from at least one nationwide rating firm.

Does the company treat policyholders fairly? Ask about a company's and an agent's complaint history and compare it with others.

From our consumer hotline:

► Will my teenager be covered when he goes to college out of state? If your teenager is not taking permanent residence in that state, most companies will not require you to make any changes to your policy.

► Is there another way to shop around for auto insurance other than calling every company in the phone book? You can start by getting your free copy of the "Auto Rate Comparison Guide," published by the Department of Insurance. It compares auto rates among the state's top insurers. However, you may find that a company not included can best provide the coverage you need.

► If I let my friend drive my car and she has an accident, will she be covered? As long as your friend has the owner's permission to drive the car, she is covered under the owner's policy. The exception would be a person who had been excluded from coverage under that policy.

What insurance do I have to buy?

Under Louisiana law, you must carry liability coverage on any automobile you own. This coverage pays for property damages or personal injury for which you may be legally responsible, up to your policy's dollar limits. In Louisiana, each vehicle is required to have 10/20/10 liability limits. Those limits provide payments of $10,000 for bodily injury to one person, $20,000 for bodily injury to more than one person in a single accident, and $10,000 coverage for damage to someone else's vehicle or other property.

Liability insurance covers bodily injury or property damage caused by you, your family members, and others driving your vehicle with your permission. You and your family members are also covered when driving another person's automobile including rental private passenger vehicles. Company cars and other non-owned cars regularly available to you are not covered.

What about other coverages?

Medical payments coverage pays for medical expenses for a designated period of time following the accident, up to your policy's dollar limits and it includes funeral expenses. Payments are made regardless of who is to blame for the accident. Medical payments covers you, your family members and other passengers in your car.

Uninsured/Underinsured motorist coverage pays benefits to you if your car is hit by a driver who has no insurance or too little insurance to pay for the full amount of your injuries. Any bodily injury you or an occupant of your vehicle suffers due to an accident caused by another driver is covered under this policy. Hit-and-run drivers may be classified as uninsured motorists if there is a disinterested witness to the accident.

You may choose to purchase uninsured motorist economic-only coverage. This coverage is the same as uninsured motorist coverage except that it covers only the actual costs of injuries to you and the occupants of your vehicle. Pain and suffering are not included under this coverage.

Uninsured/Underinsured motorist property damage coverage provides for repairs to your vehicle if you are in an accident with an uninsured driver. A $250 deductible applies under this coverage, and your recovery is limited to $10,000 or the actual cash value of the vehicle, whichever is less. If your policy includes collision insurance, this coverage is not available.

Towing and labor coverage pays for towing costs and labor costs when your car is disabled. Most automobile policies limit this coverage to $25 per tow, and some companies will not write towing and labor coverage for older cars.

Comprehensive coverage pays for specified damages to your automobile, such as those resulting from falling objects, fire, explosion, vandalism, theft or additional named causes other than collision, subject to any exclusions or limitations specified by your policy. The deductible, the amount you must pay out of your pocket for a claim, can range from $0 to $250.

Collision coverage pays for damage to your car that results from an accident. You can collect under your own collision coverage, whether or not you were at fault. Collision coverage is always sold with a deductible.

Many people drop their collision and comprehensive coverage when their cars are about five years old, because they may be worth only a few thousand dollars. If you borrow money to buy your car, the bank or other lender may require you to carry comprehensive and collision insurance until the vehicle is paid for.

The Louisiana Automobile Insurance Plan allows companies to write auto liability insurance for persons who have been turned down when they tried to get coverage through the regular channels. This assures the availability of insurance to everyone licensed to drive in this state.

Rental reimbursement provides coverage for a rental car for you if your car is damaged by a covered hazard or accident.

What if I don't have proper coverage?

Louisiana law requires that all registered owners of an automobile carry liability insurance. Uninsured motorists are subject to penalties such as fines, limited recovery of damages, and impoundment of the uninsured vehicle.

Motorists who fail to provide proof of insurance can have their vehicles immediately impounded or have their license plates removed and a yellow sticker affixed to the back windshield of the vehicle. The motorist is then given three days to provide proof of insurance to the Office of Motor Vehicles. After three days, if the motorist is stopped again, the officer can impound his or her vehicle until proof of insurance is given and all towing and reinstatement fees are paid. The fines range from $75 to $100 on the first conviction, $100 to $250 on the second conviction and up to $700 on each conviction after that.

The law known as “No Pay, No Play” prohibits uninsured motorists from collecting the first $10,000 in property damages and the first $10,000 in personal injuries regardless of who causes the accident. This law also includes a provision that may allow you to waive your right to make a legal claim for pain and suffering if you buy economic-only uninsured motorist coverage.

Does my coverage fit my needs?

- ▶ Don't hesitate to ask questions about what your policy covers. Start by asking your agent what "full coverage" means, and take it from there.
- ▶ If your car is older and paid for, you may decide not to carry collision and maybe even comprehensive coverage. Look at the cost of your annual premium compared to your car's "Blue Book" value, minus your deductible.
- ▶ If you belong to an automobile club, you may already have towing and labor coverage. Check to be sure.
- ▶ You may not need medical payments coverage for yourself if you have health insurance. However, medical coverage will also pay for injuries to your passengers.

What factors affect my premium?

- ▶ Your age. Generally, single male drivers under 25 and female drivers under 21 have much higher insurance costs than other drivers.
- ▶ Where you live. Urban areas have a higher incidence of accidents and auto thefts than rural areas, so urban rates tend to be higher.
- ▶ Type of car. Luxury, sports and high-performance cars have the highest comprehensive and collision rates.

► Your deductibles. A deductible is your share of the cost of comprehensive or collision coverage. If you opt for a high deductible, your premiums will be lower. For example, buying collision coverage with a $500 deductible will cost less than the same coverage with a $250 deductible.

► Your driving record. If you have a good driving record, some companies offer a discount. Tickets and at-fault accidents can mean higher premiums.

What kinds of discounts can I get?

► You are often eligible for a discount under a “multi-car” plan if you insure two or more cars with the same insurance company.

► You may get an auto insurance discount if you have life or homeowners insurance with the same company.

► Most Louisiana insurance companies will give discounts to full-time students with a B average or higher. Farmers and senior citizens may also qualify for discounts.

► Some companies may reduce your liability and collision premiums if you take a defensive driving course. Teenagers who have taken driver education may get a similar discount.

- ▶ You may be entitled to a discount if you have extra safety features on your vehicle. Examples are anti-lock brakes, anti-theft devices and air bags.

What if I am involved in an accident?

- ▶ Call the police immediately.
- ▶ Make sure you get the other driver's name, address, telephone number, license plate number, driver's license number and insurance information. Give the other driver the same information about you.
- ▶ Notify your insurance agent or company.
- ▶ Be sure to obtain a copy of the police report for your records, whether or not you are at fault.

Cancellation and Nonrenewal

When you purchase a new auto insurance policy, the insurance company may cancel it within 60 days. If it is cancelled for nonpayment of premium during that time, the company must give you a 10-day notice. If it is cancelled for any other reason, such as a traffic violation or an at-fault accident, a 20-day notice is required.

A company cannot cancel your auto insurance policy if it has been in effect for more than 60 days or is a renewal unless:

- ▶ You fail to pay your premium.
 - ▶ You file a fraudulent claim.
 - ▶ You or a member of your household has a driver's license or motor vehicle registration suspended during the policy period.

After the 60-day period, if a company cancels your policy because you fail to pay a premium, it must give you a 10-day notice in writing. For any other reason, you must be given a 30-day notice in writing by certified mail. If your insurance company decides not to renew your policy, it must provide you with notice 20 days prior to the policy's ending date. Your company is required to give you the reason for cancellation or nonrenewal if you request it in writing.

Within 30 days of cancellation, the company must refund all unused premiums that did not pay for coverage.
